

Actual hardware may vary. Standard kit includes handheld reader, software and tags.

Fluensee's RFID Starter Kit

An out-of-the-box RFID starter kit is now available through Fluensee (www.fluensee.com). The AssetTrack Express is ideal for companies new to RFID implementation and allows them to quickly and easily begin asset tracking.

Including everything a company needs to begin asset tracking, the AssetTrack Express can usually be installed and running within a day. The standard kit comes with a rugged handheld RFID reader, up to 250 assorted passive RFID tags, a set-up guide and support services. Modified kits offer a stationary reader or a custom amount of tags for an extra cost.

The AssetTrack Express is platform and hardware vendor agnostic and does not require additional computing infrastructure for installation. It can also work alongside of existing barcode and other automatic identification technologies. This system is ideal for manufacturers, companies with high-value corporate assets, and rental companies who need to keep a close watch on their equipment. Larger organizations are offered the enterprise-level asset manager solution called AssetTrack.
